OSOYOOS—The Village of Osoyoos will have to pay the provincial department of education $13,263.41, plus $892.31 which represents monies delinquent on its share of the education tax, the village council learned at its regular meeting this week.

In previous years the education tax was collected by the B.C. government, but it is now being collected by the municipal ties.

DELEGATION APPEAL

At the council meeting, a delegation of shopkeepers requested that the village surface a strip four feet wide between the sidewalk and the roadside curb.

There was also a question of whether it would be advisable to remove the trees that presently occupy this strip. The trees are becoming a nuisance as they grow larger.

J. E. Brown, inspector of municipalities, met with members of the Osoyoos Village Council regarding the village water system.

WATER SETUP

As a result of this meeting the council is prepared to go ahead with its planned water setup, which will cost approximately $30,000 and will apply mainly to the areas in East Osoyoos.

Council also learned that 250 feet of 2½-inch fire hose and 250 feet of 1-inch hose has been ordered.

Federal Election In June Next Year

OTTAWA (BUP)—The nation's political leaders circled June 10 on their 1957 calendars today for a national election.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent announced last night the government was considering a June election.

June 10 and June 17 have been freely predicted as probable dates for the election. It will be two months short of four years since the present parliament was elected.

Mr. St. Laurent said he had no specific June date in mind, and that he could not make a firm promise of a June election. But June is usually a "convenient" month for national general elections, he said.

Railways Join In Freight Rate Hike Plea Before Board

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Canadian National Railways joined their rival—the Canadian Pacific Railway—in a plea to the Board of Transport Commissioners today to increase freight rates.

R. A. Emerson, vice-president of operation and maintenance, emphasized the need for the requested eight per cent increase on the already-granted interim rate hike of seven percent saying that it is needed to maintain efficient operation.

Both railways want to make the freight rate boost 15 percent instead of seven.

Bus Carrying 18 Passengers Flips On Side Near Here

Eighteen passengers on a Greyhound bus heading west from Winnipeg had their trip delayed by three hours early Thursday morning when their bus hit a soft shoulder and flipped on its side.

Bus driver Wataluk had his driving hampered by a thick fog when the accident occurred at 5 a.m. about 12 miles west of Grand Forks.

A bus from Penticton was immediately dispatched to the scene to carry the passengers on their way.

No one was injured in the mishap and all the passengers fled out of the bus in orderly fashion without panic.

KINSMEN DEPUTY GOVERNOR BOB NELSON hands the gavel of office to incoming president of the Penticton Kinsmen Club, Glenn Lawrence at installation ceremonies Wednesday evening on board the SS Sicamous. Next to them, from the left are vice-president Larry Lyster, secretary Ted Millington, treasurer Vic Froese, and registrar Guy Atkins. Mr. Lawrence succeeded Paul Sharp as head of the club. Tony Lloyd and Harley McCord were installed as directors and Mrs. Ruth Millington is president of Kinettes.

Lawrence Installed President Of Kinsmen

Glenn Lawrence, city businessman, was installed as president of the local Kinsmen for the coming year by Kinsmen deputy governor Bob Nelson on the SS Sicamous Wednesday night.

Other officers installed were: Vice-president, Larry Lyster; secretary, Ted Millington; and treasurer, Vic Froese; registrar, Guy Atkins.

Comprising the board of directors this year are Tony Lloyd and Harley McCord.

President of the ladies auxiliary, Kinettes, is Ruth Millington. In sketching the past year's program, Paul Sharp, retiring president, stressed the value of the B.C. Polio Fund, which is used to finance research laboratories on poliomyelitis, polio equipment such as iron lungs, and care of polio patients.

The fund, he explained, also gives financial help when the head of a family is stricken with polio. In the case of the mother being stricken, it aids in paying the expenses of a housekeeper.

It's rehabilitation work is done under two heads, physical and occupational, he said. In physical rehabilitation work the fund pays for transportation of patients and various physiotherapy and physician expenses.

In its occupational rehabilitation work, it pays for the cost of a housekeeper.

Keremeos Soldier Graduates From NCO School In Germany

A Keremeos soldier, L/Cpl. Douglas Bulwer, Canadian Provost Corps, serving with the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Germany has qualified as a junior non-commissioned officer.

He was one of 51 candidates to parade here recently in a colorful graduating ceremony before the Commander of Canadian Base Units in Europe, Col. George S. Spencer of Toronto.

The group, comprising soldiers from all units and corps of the force, was the fourth to come out of the NCO school since last fall.

The eight-week course is a rigorous training period designed to prepare a soldier to command an infantry section or an equivalent sub-section of his corps.

L/Cpl. Bulwer enlisted in the army in 1953 and arrived in Germany in October, 1954. His wife, Elda, and their child, are in Germany with him, living at Soest.

Now delayed is contract work worth over $165,000 which was to have been completed in time to provide dial telephone service in Enderby on September 15, in Naramata on November 15, and in Revelstoke by December 1, of this year.

Minister Calls For Valley Vote To End Dispute

The continual battling back and forth between the Teamsters' Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union and the "Independent" Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union for the right to represent packinghouse workers in the Valley will be settled by a referendum vote, B.C. Labor Minister Lyle Wicks announced today.

Both parties in this jurisdictional dispute have requested such a vote.

In announcing the vote the minister expressed the desire that labor peace will once again return to the Okanagan Valley.

Ten terms of reference will govern the referendum vote. Among the terms is that the ballots for the vote shall read "do you wish to be represented by the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union or the Teamsters' Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union, No. 48, I.B.T.".

1400 Pupils To Get Polio Shots

The first shipment of the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine for the 1400 Grade I school children in the South Okanagan Health Unit area arrived this week from the Connaught Medical Laboratories in Toronto, via the Canadian Pacific Airlines.

There is sufficient vaccine to administer a booster dose for the 1150 children in Grade I who received their initial injection in May of this year. Other Grade I children will be given the opportunity of receiving their initial dose.

In each school area of this Health Unit, Public Health Nurses will proceed with this Salk vaccination program early in October.

As further supplies of Salk vaccine are made available to the health unit this fall, states Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical health officer, the second injections to other age groups of school children up to Grade IX will be given.

Planning To Proceed On Sewer, Water Bylaws

Penticton may save as much as $200,000 by delaying the presentation of both its new sewer and domestic water extension bylaws to property owners, the Herald learned here today. Originally, council planned to place the two measures before property-owners at the December elections.

"We are given to understand that new legislation is coming up at the next session of the provincial legislature, which would enable this city to save up to or more than one per cent on its bonds," stated Alderman H. M. Geddes. "Certainly saving this amount could be worth while, particularly as it will not delay the actual work by a single hour."

The statement by the Penticton alderman gives strength to rumors that the provincial government is giving consideration to the guaranteeing of bond issues covering such self-liquidating projects as sewers and domestic water installations. Some provision to this effect is expected to be included in the new Municipal Act, but action on the move to guarantee the bonds may come before that time.

While the one per cent may at first glance seem small, Alderman Geddes pointed out, in actuality it means almost a mill on the taxes per year, at present local levy basis. This amount can (Continued on Page Eight)

Civil Defence Forum Scores Preparedness

"I would like to stress the fact that civil defense training is directed as much toward a condition of preparedness for natural disasters as it is for war," stated Dr. H. G. Garrioch, local civil defense co-ordinator today, in speaking of the forum sessions opening here Saturday.

"Even our own local creek flowing over its banks could create a disaster such as took place here in 1942," he said. "A group of properly trained people could aid in restoring conditions to normal in such an event."

Dr. Garrioch paid tribute to the aid he had received from Canadian Legion officials and many other groups in setting up the present forum. He said that all groups had been notified of the forum and would participate in its discussions.

OPEN TO PUBLIC
Alderman Elsie MacCleave told the Herald that the forum is open to the general public for participation in this program of preparedness.

Major General M. H. S. Penhale, commandant of the civil defense forces, John Wallace, formerly of the RCAF, and Brigadier Creffield, of the B.C. Civil defence movement are expected to attend the forum here.

Lease Authorized To Cover Use Of Lake Boat Premises

Following the consent of the provincial Department of Lands, the city will this week sign a new lease with J. Woodside, covering his use of the boat-repair premises on the east end of Okanagan lake beach.

This is the property originally built by R. Knuff, and then operated for a time by A. Powell. Mr. Woodside has been carrying out a number of improvements to the premises. Since a new lease has been authorized, it is expected that reconstruction of the wharf will get under way shortly.

Westbank Man Pays Over $63 For Taking Car

Tommy Ell of Westbank was convicted in City Court yesterday on a charge of taking a motor vehicle without consent of its owner, and was fined $50 and $13.50 costs.

The accused on September 21 had visited a local used car lot and asked the salesman if he might try out a 1947 model car. He was permitted to test the car, but only in the confines of the lot. The reason being, as the garage owner explained, that the car was not covered by insurance when operated off the lot.

However, Ell drove the car off the lot and did not return it.

The garage owner attempted to chase him but to no avail. The police were then telephoned (Continued on Page Five)

The Sewer Situation

Some city residents, particularly those directly affected, have probably been asking if the city council has shelved the new sewer plan, or if unsurmountable difficulties have occurred that might make it impossible to proceed with the project at the present time.

It now appears that, far from forgetting about the sewer project, the council has been facing some frustration in getting the plan underway. Instead of being able to put the necessary money measure before the property owners at the December elections, council will have to delay the bylaw until early next year. By then the present problems will have been ironed out, it is expected.

As stated by a member of council in a news story in this issue, the delay may not be an unmixed blessing. The reason: if the provincial legislature goes ahead with suggested new legislation, the council could save this city a considerable sum of money. The plan is for the province to guarantee the bonds of the city for these self-liquidating projects.

This action would have the effect of reducing the interest by probably one percent, which, on nearly a million dollars of borrowing, would mean substantially less against taxes. This saving, over the normal life of such bond issues which is generally twenty years, could save the city of Penticton as much as $200,000.

In the light of this proposed legislation, the slight delay in putting further money measures before the taxpayers is perhaps a very wise move on the part of the city council.

Consequently, if drainage or water supply difficulties beset the people in what is to be the new sewer district, they have the assurance that their problems will soon be on the way toward a solution. And one that will cost them less money than it might have if the money measure were put immediately.

"Disaster Defense"

A great many people have heard something about civil defense, but most of them disregard it with a shrug as if to say "we don't need it here." Public apathy toward the whole question can be taken for granted.

While the mechanism for evacuation in the event of bomb raids, care of wounded persons and damaged facilities, are all part of the training for civil defense, they are in reality only a fraction of its entire meaning. The actual plan and accompanying organization might be called "disaster defense," for it would function just as readily in the event of flood, fire, or any other naturally-caused crisis.

This will become more apparent to the residents of the Okanagan this weekend when officials of the provincial and perhaps the national civil defense movements, head a forum on the purpose of civil defense, in the Canadian Legion Hall.

Some of the exercises will be set up on a basis of dispersal by the natural disaster than by the war-inspired one. Those who recall the disastrous floods occurring in the Fraser Valley in 1948 can now understand the need for a large reserve of trained personnel available practically on a moment's notice.

A trained civil defense force is ordinary citizens of areas such as this, many of whom have taken the thought and time to absorb the knowledge of what to do when trouble comes. They are always the busy, active people who join in such movements—but not too busy to remember that "It can happen here."

Reducing Traffic Deaths

A new slant on methods of cutting down traffic accidents on the highways emanates from Britain.

The "Institute of Advanced Motorists" grew out of a speech by John Boyd-Carpenter, formerly British Minister of Transport, and is so sane and sound that it should appeal to all responsible motorists and should be brought to the attention of authorities generally.

"The Institute of Advanced Motorists" simply consists of drivers who have been interested enough in their own safety and that of the public to undergo a special driving test—one that will last two hours and earn for successful applicants a certificate and special badge showing that they have attained a high standard of driving efficiency.

The test in Britain is not compulsory and does not exempt graduates from having to pass the less exacting compulsory test which has for many years been required in that country.

Those who win the badge of the Institute will have to apply for renewal of their membership annually and will be required to disclose their driving record.

Examiners for the test are provided by The Police Driving School of Hendon, near London. The school has an impressive record. As a result of its methods it has cut the accident rate in the police force from an average of one accident in every 9,000 miles to one in every 72,500 miles, in spite of the great increase in traffic and the higher speed.

British insurance companies will offer reduced rates to members, cutting premiums from 10 to 30 percent, (automobile insurance is compulsory in Britain).

We believe that a great many motorists would welcome this innovation and suggest that those who believe it would tend to cut down the appalling accident rate should so advise their parliamentary representatives. — Nanaimo Daily Free Press.

Which Side?

The kind of compliment that would undoubtedly flatter officials of CBC International Service has been handed the BBC instead by General Glubb, British military expert who was summarily expelled some months ago from Jordan to satisfy extreme nationalists.

ligence and propaganda in the Middle East, General Glubb, according to a British weekly, "Time & Tide," says he once talked to an Arab who had been greatly influenced by anti-British propaganda from Cairo Radio. Asked if he ever listened to BBC, the Arab told General Glubb that he did, but he couldn't make out which side they were on.

STORM IS OVER

The big storm is over — the worst political storm British Columbia has ever had. The radio and press have got back to normal, with the Sturdy-Sommers case hardly mentioned any more. What a wonderful calm it is!

The electors have given the Social Credit Government a clear mandate to look after this province for the next five years, a mandate that no one can challenge.

I dare say the Premier and his government have made mistakes and will make some more. Who doesn't? The only ones that don't are those who say nothing, do nothing and know nothing! I wouldn't put our government in any of these categories, so we can expect some mistakes.

There is a saying that there is some good in everyone and I believe there is even in our government. I cannot believe that all that they have done while in charge of British Columbia affairs has been to our detriment — not even the extension of the PGE into the Peace River country. It has and will transfer a liability of half a century's standing as a white elephant into an asset worth millions to this province. This surely was no mistake.

I believe the sales tax of two per cent put on by our government to take care of our hospitalization scheme is far ahead of the hospital insurance premium of the former government, for several different reasons: (1) everyone pays and everyone is covered—not like the old scheme.

BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER

United Press Drama Editor
NEW YORK, (UP) — The Phoenix Theatre has begun its fourth season auspiciously enough with presentation of Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," starring Siobhan McKenna of Ireland.

There are certain elements about this production, first put together last month for the Cambridge (Mass.) Drama Festival, that may not seem on a par with past presentation of this fine drama, but Miss McKenna is a driving and exciting player, and it is an attraction that should be seen.

It is scheduled for only six weeks at the off-Broadway Phoenix, after which it is likely to be moved to Broadway.

Miss McKenna is at her best in the first half or so of the play, as the dedicated and joyous and commanding peasant girl who has heard her "voices" and is determined to lead the French to victory over the British invaders.

THE BROGUE
She has a lot of voice of her own, sometimes too much for certain passages, perhaps, and she speaks in the broadest of brogues. This is a little startling at first, but one becomes used to it. Since she did not use such a brogue in her first appearance here last season, in "The Chalk Garden," it must be assumed that it is purposely stressed in this production to sort of set Joan off, as a girl of peasant origin, from the dignitaries of church and state with whom she mingles.

Miss McKenna is not as effective in the beautiful trial scene as she might be. She seems to ignore the lyricism that the role achieves at this point, failing to realize to the full extent, the spiritual quality that prevails.

The direction by Albert Marre seems to be a trifle misguided at several points, although it is most difficult for an outsider to place any such blame without the reservation that other factors may have been responsible.

SOME WEAKNESSES
The roles of de Baudricourt, Tromouille, La Hire, Dumais and de Stogumber seem to me to be played ineffectively by Dennis Patrick, Chris Gampel, Arch Johnson, Earle Hyman and Earl Montgomery, respectively. They are not the top parts, of course, but they are important.

Michael Wager is not fully effective in the highly important part of the Dauphin, but he has the disadvantage of being compared in memory with two great past performances in this role those by Maurice Evans and John Buckmaster.

Kent Smith as Warwick, Tan Keith as Cauchon, Thayer David as the Inquisitor, Dick Moore as Ladoum, Frederic Torrey as the Archbishop of Rheims and Peter Falk as a British soldier are excellent.

The costumes created by Robert Fletcher are impressively effective; the settings and light by Klaus Holm serve without distinction.

where it only collected from part of the people and only covered those who paid their premium; (2) the 2 per cent is paid mostly by those most able to pay; (3) We receive some help from the tourist and don't give any benefits except the privilege of paying the tax.

I would bring to your attention legislation to be introduced by our government for a reduction of taxes on resident homes. This is something new that no other province in the Dominion has come up with, and we have proved by our vote that we are backing the government on this proposed legislation.

I believe this is a step in the right direction and it will be a start in giving them assistance. It will also help them to keep their homes. As I said, it is a start and with our resources as promising as they are I think we may see the day when our homes will be free from taxes.

It is a vicious and cruel tax as administered today. If, and when, it becomes necessary to have more taxes, have a sales tax. And that might happen as the public are demanding more and more services day by day. The property taxes are getting higher and higher. When it gets beyond our ability to pay, what then? Will we lose our homes? There is something we should remember — it is this — the more home owners we have the less slums we will have. Do you agree with me?

NEW YORK, (UP) — Wild Bill Davison's name long has been linked with a free-wheeling trumpet that blows the hottest music this side of New Orleans. So it was considered something unusual when Davison detached himself temporarily from various Dixieland combos and made an album for Columbia with sidemen playing violins and such.

But Davison justifies his decision because "Pretty Wild" is a fine album and most of the numbers are jazz tunes, such as "Sugar" or pop standards of ancient vintage like "Just a Gigolo" and "She's Funny That Way."

Davison's trumpet is still hot but its heat is subdued by the background of strings and often his horn is challenged by Mac Cepo's violin.

A. K. W. Frazer, co-chairman of the Blood Transfusion Service, was promoted to chairman with the name of the new co-chairman to be announced later. W. H. Gerwing was re-appointed chairman for the annual Red Cross campaign for funds to be launched early in 1957.

A total of $6,339 was realized in the 1956 campaign reported treasurer R. H. Beckett.

WORKROOM REPORT

Highlighting the meeting was the excellent report submitted by Mrs. W. S. Reeder, workroom convenor. During the first half of the current year ninety-one quilts and 1,026 garments had been shipped to the Vancouver warehouses. She also informed the meeting that the Junior Hospital Auxiliary had made 5,200 wipes and 4,800 swabs for the blood transfusion service. These were included in the shipments to the coast.

In concluding her report, Mrs. Reeder re-issued a strong appeal for more cutters and sewers to participate in the local work program.

Prior to adjournment regret was expressed by Mr. Murdoch and the executive in the loss of three valued members of the local branch who have taken up residence away from this city; Mrs. H. B. Morley, Miss Joan Appleton and W. P. Suter.

Naramata United Church Federation Sets Dates For Fund Raising Projects

NARAMATA — Dates were set for two forthcoming fund raising projects when the Women's Federation of the Naramata United Church held the first meeting of the fall season on Monday in the church hall under the chairmanship of president Mrs. Wallace McFarlane.

A "Hallowe'en Bake Sale" will be held in the Naramata Fire Hall on Wednesday afternoon, October 31, commencing at noon time. Pumpkin pies and candied apples will be featured at the sale.

December 5 has been chosen for the annual winter bazaar and tea to be held in the community hall.

Other business on the agenda included routine matters with the suggestion that when monthly meetings are held in homes and refreshments served, the tea proceeds should be applied to the WMS fund.

Mrs. N. F. R. Wheatley will be hostess to the next meeting October 22.

AMERICAN CLOTHES FAVORITES

Designer Elsa Schiaparelli, who used to run one of Paris' top custom houses, says American clothes now are her favorites — "I, myself, would wear nothing but American clothes . . . they are the finest in the world today," the designer said in a recent interview. Miss Schiaparelli, said she wonders how the French couture group continues to exist anyway — "The economy in France has charged so drastically since the last war, it no longer can support the couture houses, and the ready-to-wear temptation is very great." Schiaparelli now runs a design studio serving American manufacturers.

SCHOOL LUNCH SWEET

NEW YORK, (UP) — Stuffed prunes make a good sweet to tuck into school lunch boxes. Steam the prunes and remove the pits. Fill the centres with a variety of fillings — whole walnuts, almonds or pecans; chopped nuts, marshmallow halves, dried apricots or candied fruits. Roll in granulated sugar.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LEWIS are pictured as they cut their wedding cake following their marriage in St. Paul's Anglican Church at Powell river. Watching with interest are the bride's attendants, Mrs. Robert Wismer, Vancouver; Miss Marjorie Lewis, Summerland, and Miss Diane Quinn, Powell River, and best man Bill Lewis of Summerland.

Summerland Interest In Pretty Lewise - Knudsen Nuptials At Powell River

SUMMERLAND — George Richardson Lewis, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Trout Creek, was married in a pretty ceremony at Powell River to Renith Leone Knudsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Knudsen of that city.

The wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, September 15, at two o'clock in St. Paul's Anglican Church and was performed by the rector, the Rev. Mr. Russell.

White, gladioli and yellow and bronze chrysanthemums in large baskets decorated the church and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

A white lace wedding gown, in cocktail length chosen by the bride, was worn with a bolero having a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves withilly points. The veil was in Juliet cap style, of net with a design of water lilies. She carried a white prayer book with white carnations having white satin ribbon streamers with red carnations attached to them.

As matron of honor, the groom's sister, Mrs. Robert Wismer of Vancouver, was in pink nylon chiffon over taffeta with a matching coronet and flowers in harmonizing shades. The junior attendants were identical frocks, Miss Marjorie Lewis, the younger sister, of the groom in yellow paper sheer nylon over taffeta and the cousin of the bride, Miss Diane Quinn in blue. Their coronets matched and they carried harmonizing flowers.

Bill Lewis of Summerland was his brother's best man. Grant Knudsen, brother of the bride, and Gordon Younghusband, now living in Powell River were ushers.

The bride's uncle, Bert Quinn was organist, playing during the service and while the register was signed.

Mr. and Mrs. Knudsen were assisted in receiving by the grooms' parents and the bridal party at the reception held in the Lawn Bowling Pavilion.

There were about 100 guests, and the hall was tastefully decorated with white glads, yellow mums and ivy.

White tapers and white gladioli with the three-tiered wedding cake were the centre of interest on the lace-covered bride's table.

Bob Fletcher, a family friend, proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

Friends of the groom who attended UBC played for dancing at the reception.

For flying to Vancouver and on to Seattle and other points where the honeymoon is to be spent the bride changed to a yellow plaid suit with box jacket and pleated skirt, fawn duster, brown hat and accessories. The couple will live at 3865 West 12th Ave., Vancouver, and the groom will continue his studies at UBC.

Oliver Lutheran Church Setting For Ceremony OF Valley - Wide Interest

Two well-known Oliver families were united with the marriage on Saturday afternoon of Marie Ida Pearl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Riches, Sr., and Alexander Ernest Bauder, son of Mrs. Sam Bauder, and the late Mr. Bauder. The impressive wedding ceremony was held in St. Paul's Lutheran Church with the Rev. A. Krahenbill officiating.

The lovely fair-haired bride entered the church on the arm of her father. Her stapsless gown, in ballerina length, was of white nylon tulle over satin with overdress of embroidered lace with side drape. A tiny matching jacket completed her costume. Her finger tip veil cascaded from her flowered headdress, and she carried a delicately hued bouquet of two mauve orchids and sprays of yellow stephanotis. She wore no jewellery except her lovely ring of diamonds and two heart-shaped rubies.

Mrs. Donald Rees, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, looking very dainty and charming in her blue embroidered lace nylon gown. Her only ornaments were rhinestone earrings in cloverleaf design. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and white stephanotis and wore a blue and yellow flowered headdress.

The best man was Donald Rees, and the ushers were William Mattice and Kenneth Potter. Mrs. John Hoffman, sister of the groom, was the organist.

The bride's mother wore a gown of navy brocade silk with pink accessories while the groom's mother was in a grey wool dress with contrasting accessories. Both mothers wore pink rose corsages.

The wedding supper and reception was held in the Elks Hall which had been beautifully decorated in yellow and white under the capable supervision of Mrs. Mabel Mattice, aunt of the bride. The bride's table was set under a bower of streamers and wedding bells. The lovely four tiered heart shaped cake was iced in yellow and white, and was flanked on either side with vases of yellow carnations. The tables for the guests were centred with large vases of deep red and white asters.

Jack White, popular young druggist, was toastmaster. He proposed the toast to the bride, ably responded to by the groom. The best man was then asked to propose the toast to the matron of honor, an unique situation, as they are husband and wife. A special toast was then made to the parents of the bride and groom.

Concluding the supper, the bride, assisted by the groom, cut the wedding cake. Roy Degenstein presided at his Hammond Organ for the dance and entertainment which followed.

The young couple left for a honeymoon in California and Mexico, returning via Vancouver, and will reside in Oliver. The bride's travelling costume

To refute rumors that hunting season for ducks has already started, game warden Butch Tyler emphasizes that in the Penticton, Keremeos and Oliver districts the season opens September 29.

Knox Quits Tiger-Cats In Huff (Rather, His Dad Quits For Him)

HAMILTON—(UP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats brought in experienced quarterback Tony Curcillo today from Chicago Cardinals to replace golden boy Ronnie Knox, the UCLA wizard whose loud-mouthed father yanked him out of the roster yesterday.

Harvey Knox, who gets more publicity than his gifted son, said Ronnie was being mishandled by coach Jim Trimble. He planned to take Ronnie and his Hollywood starlet sister Patricia to New York for a television show and then on to Hollywood.

Said Trimble: "Ronnie will never be permitted to come back to the Tiger-Cats under any conditions." But he felt sorry for the six-foot-two, 205-pound quarterback, he said.

"He had the makings of a great quarterback but he's green and needs experience," Trimble said. "That's what we were trying to give him."

The boy missed practice Wednesday and was suspended. Harvey, who claims the Tiger-Cats use Ronnie as a second-string quarterback and a first-class gate attraction, told club president Jake Gaudaur Ronnie either plays first-string at least half of each game "or else."

The Cats took the "or else." Gaudaur said the ultimatum was out of the question. It would lead to everyone on the team asking for privileges and threatening to quit, he said.

Harvey said Trimble was, among other things, ignorant, inexperienced at the Canadian game, unable to use players properly, and besides that, his players were out of condition.

During Ronnie's short stay he started into seven games and completed briefly in five. He played 39 of 66 passes, good for five touchdowns. This is slightly below the Big Four football union average.

Crucial Game For Sox

Early this year, Penticton Red Sox were down at the bottom of the Okanagan Mainline baseball league.

Sunday, they have a good chance to become champions. The fighting Red Sox, beat their way up to the top, with a colorful, hard-fighting, youthful club and got a toehold on the championship last week when they crushed the Kamloops Okonots 9-1.

Okonots were the league's first-place finishing team. But the Sox need only win Sunday's game to make it two straight sweep of the best-of-three final series.

Game time is 2 p.m. at King's Park.

Automobile Club Gets Underway

The Okanagan Auto Sports club officially got underway last night with the blessings of Mayor Oscar Matson.

At its first public meeting, held in the Incola Hotel last night, the newly-formed club made Mayor and Mrs. Matson honorary members and named the mayor honorary president. Then Ray Powell, club president, got down to work lining up members and telling them what the club is going to do.

For one thing, it will hold its first rally October 14. That'll be a relatively short one, probably not longer than 250 miles in all.

A hill climb will be held within six weeks or so, Powell said. He stressed that the club isn't out to promote flat-out speed events. What it will sponsor, mainly, is rallies, endurance and reliability trials, economy runs, and tests of driving skills such as car roadshows.

"We want to promote safe and sane driving through teaching skillful driving, and through giving members an awareness of what a car can and cannot do," he said.

"Anyone can drive fast, but few can drive well."

Everyone has some competitive instinct, Powell said. Properly channelled, this instinct can be a good thing. The club will see that racing is done in the right places—not on the highways—and that the average car owner can have fun with his vehicle without racing or breaking any laws.

Rallies are tests of navigational skill and timing. Drivers are required to maintain certain average speed over all types of terrain and in all sorts of traffic conditions, and without exceeding any speed limits. The OASC rallies will be held mostly on Sundays, when anyone can come out and take part, even bringing the family along.

Hill climbs will be the only straight speed event the club intends to sponsor for a few years at least, Powell said. They'll be run on some back road such as the Campbell mountain road, and safety belts for cars will be compulsory.

Mayor Matson, in his opening address, praised the aims of the club and said he would be happy to put up a trophy for one of the club's competitions.

He was glad to see, he said, that the club will be stressing courtesy and safety as much as competition.

Bryant Bowls Thursday Loop High Single

Another mixed-bowling league got started last night at the Bowl-A-Mor, with Bob Bryant of the Herald copping men's single honors.

Bryant bowled 281 for the highest one-game score of the evening. Danny O'Flynn rolled a three-game total of 589 for the high triple.

Helen Bergender made it a double sweep in the ladies' section. She fired 649 for the best triple score of the night and 249 for the best ladies' single.

Hal Tarala To Coach Vees Defencemen Signs Today

Penticton Vees announced today they have signed Hal Tarala to coach and play for the Vees this coming season.

Team manager Don Emery, in a telegram from Seattle, told the Vees' directors today that he had concluded negotiations with Tarala and the big ex-defenceman would come to Penticton shortly.

Tarala, 27 years old and 190 pounds in weight, was one of the most colorful and effective defencemen in the Okanagan senior hockey league before he left Penticton.

HAL TARALA ... welcome home ton for New Westminster Royals.

He was with the Vees the memorable year when they won the world hockey championship and for most of last season.

Tarala and the Vees parted company after the team announced successive salary cuts. He felt he couldn't afford to keep playing here and joined the Royals.

Loss of Tarala, Vees' president Bill Nicholson said, probably cost the Vees the OSHL championship and perhaps another Allan Cup.

It certainly cost them money. Attendance fell off sharply after the colorful rearguard left.

At press-time, no details of the signing were available. Tarala lives at Portland, Ore., during the off-season. He met Emery in Seattle to conclude the coaching deal.

Dino Turns Pro; Going To Lions

He was just too good to last. Dino Mascotto, one of the Penticton Vees old reliables for years, has turned pro and won't be back this year.

The 24-year-old, 185-pound defenceman tried out with the Providence Reds of the American league this year and was signed. The Reds have optioned him to Trois-Rivières Lions of the Quebec Hockey League, which is about the same calibre as the Western pro loop.

Mascotto was with the Vees when the team won the Allan Cup and World hockey championship. He had one of his best seasons last year and like George McAvoy, another defenceman, decided to give the pros a whirl.

He came back to town for a few days to pack his bags and say goodbye before leaving for Trois-Rivières.

WHAT ELSE IS NEW?

In Ottawa, Roughriders' coach Frank Clair announced that reluctant halfback Tom (the Bomb) Tracy was being put on waivers. He tried to jump his contract and couldn't get suspended for breaking training, now says he is injured. Said Clair after seeing him play: "He wouldn't be doing the team any good."

In London, Ont., the London Lords' executive blamed Sarnia Bears' supporters for a riot that broke out during an Ontario Rugby Football Union game. Took 35 policemen to quell it. Incidents like this happen everywhere Sarnia goes, the Lords said.

In Sudbury, Ont., (a familiar spot, somehow) Toronto Maple Leafs began testing their camp try-outs. Wookiee hockey players Bobby Baum and Al MacNeil

PROUDLY HOLDING UP THE FIRST PENTICTON VEES season's tickets sold this year is Len E. Armstrong, of 551 Park, who is one of the team's most ardent boosters. Armstrong has been following the Vees ever since they started and doesn't think there's any other team quite like them. Tickets are on sale now at Cliff Greyell's radio shop.

Marauders Schedule Set Only Crowds Needed Now

With their schedule settled at last, Penticton Marauders heaved a sigh of relief today and started concentrating on winning games, not finding games to win.

The Marauders, who've played two games so far this season—both of them on the road—will meet Kamloops Kougars again this Sunday at Kelowna. That will be their last away game for a month, at least.

During October, the intermediate footballers will play four straight Saturday night home games, with a few more games scheduled for November.

The schedule as it now stands shows the Marauders playing IMCS Naden October 6, Victoria Vampires October 13, Surrey Rams October 20, and Kamloops again October 27.

Season's tickets are being sold by football club members for $2 apiece. That'll cover at least five and probably six home games.

Coach Merv Davis optimistically predicted the Marauders will beat Kamloops in Kelowna, Sunday.

"We'll spring Doug Weeks on them," he said. "Weeks is a natural-born broken-field runner and they've never played him before so they won't know how to stop him."

Everyone but fullback Ed-gamie, John plays baseball. John will be out for the Penticton Red Sox, who'll be taking on Kamloops Okonots in a baseball final at King's Park.

"Our new box formation is working well, and our boys are better than they were at the start of the season," Davis said. "Of course, Kamloops is probably better, too."

"The box formation was adopted after Marauders figured their spread formation, with which they beat Kamloops 14-12 in their first game of their season, didn't give the halfbacks much of a chance to break away."

It proved itself in Penticton's 20-13 win over Surrey Rams. Leading ground-gainer for the day was halfback Weeks, who averaged nine yards a carry, and runner-up was halfback John Stooch-noff, who averaged 62/3 yards.

Jerry Byers packed the ball 61/3 yards a try and Eddy John and Jack Amos each racked up an average of 41/3 yards.

Quarterback Bud Tidball didn't get much of a chance to carry the ball and wound up with an average loss of two-thirds of a yard.

and the car was later found on the Penticton Indian reserve. When located by the RCMP, Eli was sitting in the car and chatting with a friend.

Cst. Dave Williams of the RCMP arrested him and placed him in the police patrol car. Crown Prosecutor Peter van der Hoop maintained that the accused had the owner's consent, but that it was a "limited consent."

"He had consent," said Mr. van der Hoop, "to drive it on the lot and was specifically told not to take it off the lot... yet he drove it off at the earliest possible moment."

Fred Herbert, defense counsel, argued on the grounds of an English case that the "initial taking" was the point at dispute.

His client, he maintained, "initially had consent to drive the vehicle." Hence, he reasoned, RCMP had laid the wrong charge and he suggested it "possibly should have been a charge of taking under false pretences. Magistrate H. J. Jennings ruled that the accused "had the intent to take the car."

He added that on Mr. Herbert's argument the accused could have taken the car to Vancouver and not be guilty of any offence.

The magistrate also noted that when found by the RCMP the accused was not trying out the vehicle, but just sitting in it.

New West Bench School Reviewed By Inspector

A presentation of the views of E. L. Hyndman, inspector of schools in this district, was the feature of a discussion of the proposed West Bench school, at Wednesday night's regular meeting of the board of trustees.

The school board took note of this paper, accepting it as data to be referred to in reaching its final decision on this subject.

Mr. Hyndman's views were agreed with, by several trustees at the meeting, but the board as a whole has not yet made any finalized announcement of its intentions.

The presentation was as follows:

While several critical comments regarding the proposed construction of a school on the West Bench have been made, perhaps not enough emphasis has been placed on the advantages of such a location.

It is proposed that a two-room school be built and that it enroll Grades 1 to IV. This would be from 50 to 60 pupils with each teacher having from 25 to 30 pupils each with two grades.

This is not a "return to a country school" because it is a better situation than the larger schools within the city boundaries have.

Grants would be paid for two teachers' salaries if there were 26-71 pupils and for three teachers' when the numbers are above 71. In the larger schools, it requires an additional 40 pupils for each additional teacher. As a result our elementary classes average above 37 pupils per teacher, even where there are double grades. It is a better learning situation to have the numbers reduced to a reasonable pupil-teacher ratio than to bring the pupils into a large school.

SCHOOL LOCATION
It is preferable to have the elementary school near the homes of the children. The proposed location would be close to the homes of many children and they would be able to eat their noon meals at home. Further by its location closer contact between the parents and the school would be maintained. It would be a safer and a more protected area for these younger children. It could be used as a place for community functions.

The children in grades one to four are not team players. Their play activities are usually circle-type games and rather free moving enterprises involving the imagination. Generally pupils are in grades five and six before they show interests in team games and for this reason there may be some logic in transporting these older pupils to the Queen's Park School. Carrying little children into a big school just adds to their confusion without any compensations.

A census of December 1955 showed the following children from the West Bench:

Grade VI—7; Grade V—4; Grade IV—8; Grade III—12; Grade II—21; Grade I—10; 5 year olds—17; 4 year olds—10; 2 year olds—18; others—11.

Even without the proposed extension of the West Bench a two-roomed school would be justified for Grades I to IV. Since the extension proposes almost an equal number of family units it is not unreasonable to expect the number of children to double.

While it would probably be logical to build more than two class rooms certainly experience has shown that such a number of residences would continue to provide children to keep two classrooms occupied.

Under the existing financial structure one half the cost of such a unit would be paid by government grants providing the School Board's plans conform to the principles laid down in the building manual.

Since the manual states "Wherever it is possible to provide adequate grading... all elementary school pupils should be taught at local schools, with-

Services Held For Former Resident, Richard Hammond

Funeral services were held yesterday in Victoria for the late Richard B. C. Hammond, 52, a former Penticton resident who died in Victoria Veterans' Hospital on September 24 after a prolonged illness.

Mr. Hammond was born in Fernie.

He moved to Penticton and during the thirties was very active on the Penticton baseball team. His work as pitcher enabled the team to become outstanding in the international league.

He joined the 1st Canadian Scottish Battalion on July 27, 1940. His army service was in Canada, the United Kingdom and continental Europe.

For this service Mr. Hammond was awarded the Canadian Voluntary Service Medal and clasp, the 1939-45 medal with France and Germany stars. After the war he returned to Penticton.

Mr. Hammond moved to Victoria in 1953.

Surviving are his wife, Rose, five sisters, Mrs. E. Hutchings of Burnaby, Mrs. N. Newell, Mrs. J. A. Laffing, Mrs. R. Cornwall and Mrs. T. Leese, all of Vancouver; two brothers, Gordon and Bert of New Westminster.

Services were conducted in Hayward's Funeral Chapel in Victoria. Interment followed in Veterans' Cemetery at Victoria.

The North Dakota Agricultural College says farmers prefer alfalfa hay for livestock feed because of its high yield, palatability, richness in protein, calcium and vitamins.

The Druses, a sect of Islam, accept no converts for fear of admitting spies. They live in the mountain fastness of Syria.

In walking distances of their own homes." It is not likely that grants would be paid for additional classrooms elsewhere. The School Board, in order to receive half the cost of the building, would have to give a reasonable explanation why it should not be built near the homes of the children.

Top Prizes Listed In Pulp Industry Essay Competition

Runners-up for the top 30 prizes in the Pulp and Paper Industry's tenth annual Essay Contest will receive a much better reward this year than an honorable mention.

The Pulp and Paper Industry has designed and prepared an education game which will serve as a consolation prize to the first 1500 runners-up.

Telling a picture-story of Forestry and forest utilization right from the seedling tree to pulp and paper, the game, which requires judgment and skill on the part of the players, concentrates on the forestry theme throughout. Its appeal is based on the natural fascination of young people for the spectacular equipment and the magic appeal of the scientific technology employed by the industry.

Regular prizes valued at $1750 will still be given for the top 30 essays: first, second, third in five zones, junior and senior divisions.

The 1956 essay topic is "Why British Columbia's Pulp and Paper Industry Depends on Export Markets." To help essay writers with their work, a complete set of information is available from the Pulp and Paper Industry's Essay Headquarters, Forest Industries Building, 550 Burrard Street, Vancouver.

In the four years after 1950 St. Lawrence County, N.Y., dropped from 46th to 70th in the number of horses and mules on farms.

Famous Trichologist Will Demonstrate How To Grow Thicker Hair And Guarantees It!

Demonstration To Be Held Here

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Penticton, B.C. on Sunday, September 30.

These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Prince Charles Hotel in Sunday ONLY—12 noon to 9 p.m.

LONDON, Ontario—In an interview here today, William L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and Director of the Keele Hair Experts, said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED
"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Keele said.

Once a person avails himself of the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the trichologist is quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless cases" are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this last category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Keele treatment can perform wonders. A complete, private examination is given by a trichologist, to determine the condition of the scalp and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION
This examination is very thorough and highly technical... it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination the person is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment the person makes regular reports to the Keele firm in London to check the progress of the home treatment.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, independent trichologists are visiting various cities throughout Canada to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL
"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment. It all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?
If it worries you call Trichologist W. N. Crawford at the Prince Charles Hotel in Penticton, B.C. on Sunday ONLY, September 30, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited.

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Both men and women are welcome.

City Ministers Next Week Deal With Pro Sport

The first fall meeting on Tuesday, October 2 of the Penticton and district Ministerial Association will be highlighted by the drafting of a letter on Sabbath observance with respect to drive-in theatres and professional sport organizations.

Discussion will be guided partially by the viewpoints expressed here recently by Reverend H. T. Allen, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in B.C. This organization has been strongly objecting to recent action taken in Vancouver whereby professional baseball games can be slated on Sundays.

When interviewed Reverend Allen pointed out to a Herald reporter that the passing of the federal Lord's Day Act in 1907 permitted 80,000 workers across Canada to have Sunday freedom.

He termed the legislation a "progressive act designed to ensure social responsibility and human freedom."

Rev. Allen continued during the interview that freedom from labor on Sunday is particularly needed today.

"We have got to have a change of tempo," he said, "from the frustration of the week. The Sabbath enables us to catch our breath."

However, he noted people with "narrow vision" do not seem to realize the need for a day of rest. In connection with sport on Sunday he said he is "entirely in favor" of such providing it is on a recreational and voluntary basis.

His expressed disagreement with people "not concerned with principles" just money, who hold Sunday games solely for "commercial profit."

Concerning the filmings at drive-in theatres on Sunday by service clubs he felt that such schemes "violate the spirit of generosity."

From a long term viewpoint he advocates "social welfare measures which underwrite the needs of the community on a welfare state basis."

At the meeting of the association on Tuesday, which will be held in the Penticton United Church, Hall at 10 a.m., election of officers for the coming year will also take place.

Heading the Penticton Ministerial Association the past year has been Pastor J. R. Spittal of the Church of the Nazarene.

Reverend Ernest Rands of the Penticton United Church has been vice-president, and Canon A. R. Eagles of St. Saviour's Anglican Church has acted as secretary.

Cabinet Shuffle

Williston as minister of Education.

The Nanaimo chief magistrate was just recently elected to his first term in the legislature. Mr. Peterson was re-elected from Vancouver Centre.

Mr. Chetwynd, formerly minister of railways, trade and industry and fisheries, retained the latter portfolio and also became minister of agriculture, replacing Kenneth Kiernan.

Kiernan was made mines minister and Williston was appointed lands and forests minister, a position formerly held by Robert S. Sommers.

Labor minister Lyle Wicks retained his portfolio and also became railways minister, a job formerly held by Chetwynd.

Unaffected by the changes were provincial secretary and municipal affairs minister Wesley D. Black, attorney-general

Robert Bonner, highways minister Phillip Gaglardi, health and welfare minister Eric Martin, and public works minister William Chant.

The appointments of Westwood and Peterson boosted cabinet membership from 10 to 11, since Sommers resigned as minister of lands and forests and mines early this year when he came under fire for his alleged mis-handling of forest licences. He was returned to the house in the September 19 vote with a smashing mandate from his Rossland-Trail riding.

BLUEBIRD NOTES

The quarterly meeting of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, Penticton Branch, was held on September 24 in the Prince Charles Hotel. The president, Andie Bennie, was in the chair.

Treasurer Miss E. Selby, reported that $3091.75 had been received to date from the Penticton United Appeal committee. The outlying districts, such as Summerland, Oliver, Osoyoos and Okanagan Falls, will campaign for funds in October.

Miss Houlton, branch physiotherapist, reported an increase in revenue from patients. It is remembered that no sufferer is denied help although unable to pay. The scope of Miss Houlton's work is also increasing. Princeton and Hedley are visited monthly. During August 75 patients were treated, of which 42 were in Penticton. On an average, 360 treatments are given each month.

Miss Houlton also reported three visits during the year from the Vancouver consultants who travel round the branches to see arthritic patients whose doctors desire this.

Reference was made to the medical forum on the rheumatic diseases, which will be held in Vernon on Oct. 3. The hope was expressed that a similar forum might be held here at some future date. Mention was also made of the need for a wax bath, one having thermostatic control, in place of the makeshift one in present use.

A report of the activities of the Women's Auxiliary was submitted by Mrs. J. K. Anderson. The group's chief duty is arranging for transportation of patients. This has now been resumed by the kindness of the volunteer drivers organized by Mrs. J. F. Macrae.

Mrs. Shannon who headed a delegation from Summerland, reported that plans for the fall campaign there are now in order. The work of canvassing will be again in the hands of the Rebekahs, with some assistance from the Oddfellows.

Man Jailed In Chase Of Two Stolen Autos

A rather involved theft of two cars, one from Penticton and one from Keremeos, late Wednesday night, led to two accidents in which both stolen cars were completely damaged and the arrest of Kenneth Norman Warwick, no fixed address.

Warwick appeared in Keremeos magistrate's court Thursday morning. He pleaded guilty to a charge of sentence by Magistrate W. B. Stewart.

A. L. Day of Naramata found his car had been stolen from the Penticton branch of the Canadian Legion. He reported the theft to RCMP at 11:45 p.m. Police believe the car was stolen about 9:30 p.m.

About 10 p.m. Bud Bevercombe owner of the Royalite Sunset Station in Keremeos, reported to the Keremeos RCMP detachment that his car had been stolen.

either mean a considerable saving to the property owners, he added, or added improvements to streets and other facilities.

PLANNING TO PROCEED

"I would like to assure all those vitally interested in either of these projects that we are certainly not delaying them," Alderman Geddes said. "Although we may delay the money measures, other phases of the work, such as necessary planning and preliminary costing, will go ahead."

SEWER PROJECT

"Regarding the sewer project, we are well aware of the public feeling that nothing is happening. Actually, the delays have been far more frustrating to us than they have to the public, because we have been working hard on the problem."

"I am now in hopes that the matter will be arranged satisfactorily, and that shortly we can inform the public what has been our difficulty."

"In the light of what we have been given to understand about the government's new borrowing plan, the delay may save taxpayers a considerable sum of money over the years."

PROJECTS LISTED

Other projects, Mr. Sharp noted, which were done last year included the Halloween shellout program and display of fireworks, administering Sunday night skating, a Kinsmen track meet and bingo drive.

In addition an iceless oxygen tent was donated to the hospital and assistance given to the Penticton Aquatic Association and minor hockey.

COLDWATER, Mich.—(UP)—Ed Butters of Coldwater has buffaloes for sale. He wants to get rid of his buffalo herd so he can devote full time to his reindeer. Butters bought the ancestors of his present buffalo herd several years ago from the government. The reindeer are prepped for his annual masquerade as Santa Claus.

With a firm resolve to embark on professional careers in music, the two young artists chosen to represent British Columbia in the 1956 fall series have already succeeded in collecting many honors.

Varick Hewitt, student of Mrs. Holroyd Paul of Vancouver, received a scholarship from the Student Performers' Guild of B.C. in May and has taken part in many recitals and concerts during the past two years. She had the memorable experience of touring with the Elgar Choir in England in 1954.

Eight of Valery Lloyd's sixteen years have been under the musical tutelage of Glen Geary of Vancouver and have resulted in an outstanding series of honors.

Winning silver medals for Grades 8 and 10 in piano, she has also won cups for her performance of the Mozart A minor and the Schumann A minor concerto.

Two more awards in the open concert group and the Chopin class brought the William Kapell Scholarship for the highest marks in the 1955 Festival, and in 1956 she also won the Past Festival Championship playing a Tschakowsky concerto.

During the past two years, she has appeared as soloist with both the Vancouver Symphony and the Junior Symphony orchestras.

District Governor

Monday's luncheon meeting, which will be preceded by a club assembly on Sunday evening.

In this period he will confer with President Frank Bowsfield, Secretary C. W. "Bert" Lintott, and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Coe is a peach grower and is a director of Penticton Co-operative Growers.

He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1956-57 fiscal year at Rotary's 47th annual convention in Philadelphia last June.

He is one of 248 district governors supervising the activities of more than 9,100 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 431,000 business and professional executives in 999 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, President Bowsfield points out, in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Penticton because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the people of the world.

Each year this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. President Bowsfield added this week. During the past fiscal year 351 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 48 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the islands of the Pacific, and seven countries were added to Rotary's roster—Angola, Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands, New Guinea, Tuvalu-Urundi and Swaziland.

PENTICTON PREPARES FOR NATURAL GAS BOOM

UNWELCOME GUEST

MADISON, Conn., (UP) — Police rushed to the home of Mrs. Raymond Allen when she telephoned there was an "intruder" in her bedroom. The "intruder" was a snake coiled in a bureau drawer.

BOOM AT 100 MILE HOUSE

At 100 Mile House, business and residential building has been outstanding in recent months. Construction men cannot keep up to demands at times, and the famous Cariboo Trail coach stop has changed its face considerably. Expansion of mill installations and new agricultural interest has called for more housing, a new hotel, and other business buildings.

Originally, 100 Mile House was the centre of a huge rangeland ranching operation headed by Lord Martin Cecil. It is halfway between Lillooet and Williams Lake.

Little Prairie, too, is potentially the headquarters for a large lumbering and lumbering industry, and natural gas will provide both industrial and residential heat at low cost.

Both systems will be achieved through contacts between Inland and Westcoast, and Inland officials said gas will be available in its service area as soon as Westcoast is ready to make delivery.

Householders Benefit Under New Gas Scheme

Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. are offering two schemes which will prove a benefit both to householders and gas fitters, states Hank Laub, southern area sales manager for the company.

Inland Company will supply free adjustment service to all people purchasing the gas appliances presently being offered by appliance dealers.

In presenting this offer to the public Mr. Laub stresses that his firm does not sell gas appliances. Sales are done by the local appliance dealers and plumbing-heating trade. However, Inland is providing assistance in installation and maintenance.

In addition to this offer on newly purchased appliances, Inland Company will convert appliances from propane to natural gas at no cost to the customer. Mr. Laub stresses that the offer applies to any propane appliance regardless of when it was purchased.

GAS FITTERS' SCHOOL

Inland Natural Gas Co. will be sponsoring a gas fitters' school throughout the Interior.

The school will be in Penticton three days, October 22, to October 25 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Follow-up classes will be held on November 8 dealing with ventilation and controls.

When its pipeline is completed Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. will be transmitting and distributing gas to some 35 communities in B.C. extending from Prince George down through the Cariboo district, on to Kamloops, through the Okanagan Valley and over into the West Kootenay area.

Centres on its line include: Quesnel, Williams Lake, Merritt, Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Endrey, Vernon, Kelowna, Westbank, Penticton, Summerland, Penticton, Oliver, Osoyoos, Grand Forks, Trail, Rossland, Castlegar, and Nelson.

The current population in these communities is approximately 110,000.

The gas will be priced well below oil and at a level with hand-fired coal, and will probably find rapid and wide acceptance for domestic and commercial use.

Industrially speaking the gas will be used for lumber dry kills, oil refineries, oil pumping stations, the canning and fruit processing industry, plywood and hardboard plants, mining and the refining of metals.

The firm was incorporated in June 1952 and is predominantly a Canadian-owned company. Of 2,230,703 shares outstanding, Canadian shareholders have 1,498,737 common shares with United States investors holding 437,381 shares and U.K. shareholders with 293,890 shares.

FOUR SUBSIDIARIES

Four subsidiary companies of Inland have been operating in Northern B.C. and Alberta. They are the St. John Gas & Oil Co. Ltd., Canadian Northern Oil & Gas Ltd., Peace River Transmission Company Ltd., and Grande Prairie Transmission Co. Ltd.

On the matter of rates on the Inland lines, natural gas will be competing with other heating fuels such as sawdust, wood, coal, oil and electricity, and such competition, states company officials, can only be met by competitive rates.

Inland has engaged the firm of Ebasco Services Inc. which have just completed a survey of fuel costs in Inland's proposed service area and have prepared a schedule of rates designed to be competitive with other fuel costs in the area, for Inland Natural Gas Company.

One in every 10 of the Canadian labor force is engaged in construction. House building is the largest single category of construction ranging from quarter to half of the total value of contracts annually awarded. Approximately 75 per cent of Canada's residential building is done by builders erecting houses for sale.

One Man's Opinion

Watch Out For . . . TV Itis

BY HOWARD PATTON

Hello, television — goodbye friends. We may as well steel ourselves for the ordeal — that insane year of learning to live with the awful eye.

The one consolation in getting TV so late in Penticton is that many of us already have had our bout with TV-itis in other climes and should be relatively immune when the local epidemic breaks.

Also, to those yet to be stricken, the experience of millions proves you'll survive. But make no mistake, if you haven't had TV-itis, you'll get it, as sure as you'll catch a cold within the year. The forest of antennae in every reception area proves that. And when you succumb, just as with the common cold, there isn't much you can do about it.

These may sound like positive statements for one man's opinion. They are based on two experiences. First, the observation of an American family at three-month intervals during their inoculation year. Then a personal attack of the disease.

From this I'm giving odds 10 to 1 to parents who say, "You can just bet your life I won't serve the children's supper in front of the set."

I'll pay for the set of the first new addict I visit who turns off his machine when the doorbell rings, leaves it off until I go home and enjoys the evening of bridge or banter as we did of yore.

If first-year viewers were to donate two-bits to the United Appeal every time they went to bed with a headache, muttering, "I don't know why I bothered to watch that!" then Penticton's welfare fund would be the sensation of the nation.

Likewise, to those who say, "I'm not going to have TV in the house," or even to those willing to compromise with, "Our set won't be in the living room, it's going away off in the rumpled room or den," to you, a case of champagne if your set is not opposite the chesterfield within a year.

"No TV for me at those prices," others say.

"You'll have it long before you can afford it," I say.

"Is there no escape?" you may ask.

Not that I know of, unless you can run off to Kelowna or Vernon where TV plans are not so far ahead. But then you may as well stay right here and get it over with.

As I said, you'll get used to it — in about a year — and again be master of yourself, your children and many a social evening.

In the meantime, I'll be seeing you in front of the set, if I can bear to glance sidewise during a commercial.

Engineers Tour Water Resources Projects In U.S.

R. L. Walker, principal engineer and executive assistant, and W. E. Corry, senior hydraulic engineer, of the Fraser River Board, Victoria, are on a professional jaunt to major water resources projects in Oregon and Washington.

The trip being made by the two British Columbia engineers to provide a first hand study of the Columbia River power system, both actual and potential, in the United States and Canada.

This week they were in Portland at the North Pacific Division and Portland District headquarters of the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, discussing hydro-project "problems similar to those on the Fraser River."

They then proceeded up the Columbia, travelling by car, to visit Bonneville Dam, the Dalles Dam, McNary Dam and the Priest Rapids two-dam project. A visit was also made at Chief Joseph Dam, near Bridgeport, Washington. These all are U.S. Federal multiple-public-benefit projects under jurisdiction of the Corps of Engineers, except the Priest Rapids project which is being constructed by the Grant County (Washington) Public Utility District No. 1.

STRONG ASSISTANCE

MT. PLEASANT, Mich., (UP) — Patricia Jackson, 22, of Detroit, had almost succeeded in pushing her stalled car from a railroad track near Rosebush, Mich., when she got a powerful assist. Just as Miss Jackson's muscles were about to give out, a freight train came along and finched the job, bumping the car off the right-of-way and causing $100 in damage.

Naramata's

new dial service

will be delayed . . .

• Due to circumstances beyond its control your Telephone Company will have to delay the "cut-over" to its new automatic telephone service in the Naramata exchange area.

• Because the Brockville plant of the equipment supplier, Automatic Electric Sales (Canada) Ltd., has been strike-bound since August 30th, the manufacture and delivery of all dial exchange equipment has been delayed and we have therefore had to abandon our originally-planned mid-November "cut-over" date.

• On resumption of production by the manufacturers, your Telephone Company will strive for the earliest completion date possible to provide the Naramata community with this new dial telephone service.

NELSON RATEPAYERS IN FAVOR OF SELLING GAS SETUP TO INLAND

Nelson citizens Friday, Sept. 21, voted 921 to 53 to sell their municipally-owned propane gas system to Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. and granted Inland a franchise to provide natural gas to the entire city.

Originally installed by the Economical Gas Co. of London, Eng., in 1900, the Nelson Gas Plant was purchased by the city in 1910 and up until its conversion in 1950, the plant manufactured coal gas.

The conversion to propane-air mix provided the City of Nelson with 600 BTU gas which will now be replaced with natural gas with nearly twice the heat value per cubic foot.

Inland proposes to maintain the gas plant to provide full service until the arrival of natural gas and to act as a stand-by plant after that date.

The distribution system will be abandoned to be replaced by a fully modern system which for the first time will carry gas to the entire city and its populated fringe areas.

The vote clears the way for an almost immediate start on the clearing and grading of the right-of-ways in the Nelson area for the major transmission lines while preparations for operation of the Nelson distribution system have already started.

Natural gas is expected to arrive in Nelson in the early fall of 1957.

Dutton-Williams Brothers of Calgary have been given the nine million dollar construction contracts and will be subletting as much local construction contracts as possible.

Surveys are presently underway to ascertain the housing and feeding facilities of the Nelson community in preparation for the construction and supervision personnel.

GRANGEVILLE, Ida., (UP) — Overparked horses will be treated the same as overparked automobiles here. Police Chief Leo Whitcomb said sometimes two horses are tied to a single parking meter, but the riders don't put a coin in the meter for parking privileges.

Gas Transmitted And Tapped Via
Co. Subsidiaries

While Inland Company has been busy mapping out its interior line and negotiating with various authorities, its four subsidiaries have been operating pipelines in Peace River and Grande Prairie, and carrying out exploration work on gas reserves.

The Peace River Transmission Company Ltd. owns and operates 18 miles of pipeline for the transmission of natural gas which it sells to Northland Utilities (B.C.) Ltd. for retail distribution in the villages of Dawson Creek and Pouce Coupe.

To satisfy the increasing demand for natural gas in Dawson Creek and the adjacent area, the subsidiary proposes to build a second transmission line, which is expected to be in service during the winter of 1957.

The Grande Prairie Transmission Co. Ltd., another Inland subsidiary, owns and operates 55 miles of pipeline for transmission of natural gas from the Rycroft gas field in the Peace River area of Alberta to serve the communities of Rycroft, Woking, Sexsmith, Clairmont and Grande Prairie.

Canadian Northern Oil & Gas Ltd. has participated jointly with Pacific Petroleum Ltd. in drilling 13 wells in the South Pouce Coupe gas field. Of the 13 wells drilled, 12 have proved successful producers of natural gas.

All of this natural gas is committed under an existing contract with the mainline company, Westcoast Transmission, but application has been made to release sufficient quantities to the Peace River Transmission Company Ltd., an Inland subsidiary already mentioned.

The fourth subsidiary, St. John Gas & Oil Co. Ltd., has carried out exploration in the vicinity of the village of Fort St. John.

The natural gas which the subsidiary owns will be sold under an existing contract to Westcoast Transmission at prices agreed upon for a period exceeding 20 years.

Two Booming
Cities Added
To Gas Line

Two new communities have been added to the long list to be served by Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd.

Little Prairie, east of Dawson Creek in the Pine Pass, and 100 Mile House, scene of spectacular growth in recent years, both will be served by stub lines from the Westcoast Transmission main

CHICKEN JOURNEY
SHIRLEY, Mass., (UP) — Chicken thievery is still rated as a serious crime in Massachusetts. Police Chief Donald R. Morse of this town and a state trooper traveled 3,000 miles to California to bring back for trial a fugitive accused of stealing $1,850 worth of chickens.

Little Prairie will be Inland's most northern customer, outside of distribution companies served by two of the company's wholly owned subsidiaries, Grande Prairie, Alberta, and Dawson Creek, are both Inland customers.

Two Hurdles Faced Building Of Inland's Interior Gas line

Inland Natural Gas Company Ltd. had two hurdles to meet before it could begin work on its interior lines.

The first hurdle, although not directly involving the firm, was for the Westcoast Transmission Company Ltd. to obtain permission from the Federal Power Commission of the US to export gas into the Pacific Northwest states.

Inland Company purchases its gas from the WTC and until such permission was obtained the Westcoast mainline could not be built. The reason: WTC will sell most of its gas to the US.

Westcoast was granted FPC permission in November 1955. The second hurdle was obtaining certificates from the Public Utilities Commission as required under the Public Utilities Act.

After public hearings with PUC Inland Company was granted the necessary certificates.

In addition, the firm obtained from the B.C. Minister of Railways the certificates required by the B.C. Pipelines Act.

Inland Company has still one phase to go in its negotiations with the PUC and that is to present to the commission its schedule of rates.

However, beyond that the company has been given the go-ahead signal. The firm has already had its engineering consultants, Ford, Bacon & Davis, survey the interior route and presently the ground surveyors for the line are staking their way down the Valley.

Inland Company has also set up an interior office in Penticton, administered by its Southern sales manager, Hank Laub.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Crow and Mr. Blogg attended the Southern Interior Chapter of Credit Unions, September meeting held in the form of a picnic at Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland on Sunday.

The Women's Institute will meet in October 10 at the home of Mrs. H. Paulsen. At their last meeting there were 14 members present and Mrs. M. Whyte was presented with a life membership and badge in appreciation of her untiring efforts for the club. A report of the fall fair and improvements for next year were given by the agricultural committee. The report of Mrs. R. C. Many Factors In Mind When Buying Home Lot

If you are looking for a building lot, first choose your neighborhood and satisfy yourself that you will be happy there. Then search for a lot which appeals to you, considered from the following viewpoints.

Try to find a lot on a street which—
(a) is short, quiet and free from traffic. Short loops normally fulfill these requirements. Straight streets with many intersections are likely to be dangerous.
(b) has a pleasant setting, is of pleasing proportions and has a parklike atmosphere. The value of mature trees on a street is great.

(c) is paved and has local improvements completed and paid for. If the road is unpaved and utilities not installed, check with the city engineer to find out when this will be done and if you will be assessed for local improvement taxes; meanwhile you have to maintain a well and septic tank disposal system.

The registered plan of the locality should be checked in the city engineer's or city surveyor's office. This plan will give you an idea of the projected future growth of the district.

You might discover, for instance, that a four-foot wide public footpath has been planned between your lot and your neighbor's or that the bottom of your garden abuts a future public playground. These could detract from the value of your property. Find out such facts before you build, not after.

CHOOSE HIGH GROUND
Preferably choose a lot that is on high ground. It is likely to be better drained. There is a tendency for properties on lower levels to be the first to depreciate in value.

Consider the frontage regulations of the street and whether houses on adjoining lots would block one another's view. Consider whether the design of your house would be incompatible with its neighbor's and so detract from their value. These are considerations of architectural good manners.

Consider the direction in which the house would face. A wide lot with the street to the north is often considered desirable because the living room can then have a southern exposure (preferably south east) and so take advantage of the garden aspect rather than the street approach. Large glass areas should not face northwards or be located on the windy side of the house.

At the city engineer's office check the depth of the sewer pipe under the surface of the road. If your basement is to be lower than the sewer, difficulties may be encountered in making connection to it and in draining your basement. You will save money if only one trench is needed to bring the various services and public utilities to your house.

WATCH REGULATIONS
Where local improvements have not yet taken place and there is no sewer, find out from the city engineer if the lot is large enough to accommodate the septic tank. There may be city or provincial regulations governing lot sizes in such cases; the recommendations of the National Housing Act building standards should be also noted. Find out when the sewer is to be built because you may have to bear some of the cost of installation.

If you have to provide your own water supply, consult the local officer of health who will advise you on the safety of the local water well. Make preliminary investigations into the cost of drilling a well.

The cost might determine whether or not you buy the lot. It is important that the well be correctly placed on your lot so that the water is not contaminated by seepage from adjacent sewage filter beds.

Investigate the former use of the lot. In the case of filled land you should ascertain the depth of fill and the period over which it has consolidated. It may also be wise to obtain an engineer's opinion; he may advise test boring because depth of fill can be a determining factor on the cost of the footings.

Avoid building on swampy ground or on a lot with rocky outcrops unless you can take advantage of the latter in planning and landscaping.

SAVE SOUND TREES
Look for a lot with good sound trees and consider how they may be protected during construction. If they can be saved they will enhance the value of your property.

Check the location of telephone or hydro posts near your property and make sure they are not in inconvenient locations. Some municipalities or utility companies might be amenable to moving awkwardly placed posts, others might not.

You should consider the location of your garage and its approach. It is hard to manoeuvre in curved driveways and those on an incline present difficulties in wintertime. Place the garage as close to the road as possible. Consider driveway paving costs and removal of snow in wintertime. Do not waste the width of your lot by planning a driveway down one length to reach a garage placed at the rear.

If you plan to have a garage make sure the lot is wide enough to accommodate it and still leave the required width of side yard.

Consider the proportions of your lot. One that is roughly twice as long as it is wide, is best. It must also be wide enough to accommodate the side yards as specified in your locality's building bylaws or in the National Housing Act building standards, whichever code has the higher standard.

CONSIDER THE PRICE
Consider the price of your lot. You can normally afford to allocate between 10 percent and 15 percent of your total investment for an improved lot; that is, one which has all utilities and street improvements installed and is ready to build on.

Above all else, do not forget to find out what the taxes will be on your lot after your house is built. They may be the deciding point on whether or not you buy a particular lot.

Where taxes are levied on a per-front-foot basis, lot shape is important. Before committing yourself to buying a certain lot, arrange to have an impartial appraisal made so that your own judgment may be confirmed. This might be arranged through your mortgage lender. Check with your local tax assessment office to establish that there are no back taxes outstanding on the property. Finally, consult a lawyer who is experienced in real estate dealings. He will safeguard your interests.

Food Cutting Board Made Stain-Proof By Coat Of Linseed

A kitchen cutting board can be made stain-resistant by treating it with raw linseed oil. After sanding and smoothing the board with sandpaper, give the wood two or three coats of the linseed oil.

Allow several days to elapse between applications. When a coat of oil is applied it should soak into the wood for an hour or so, then all excess oil must be wiped off.

To make certain that the linseed oil is pure and clean, it is suggested that it be purchased bottled from an artist's supply shop.

RENEW SCREENS
Old mesh on screen frames can be made to look new with a little paint of the same color as the frames. Cut from old carpeting a three by five inch piece and nail it to a wood block of the same size. By dipping this carpeting into the paint and dabbing the mesh with it, it is possible to obtain good results without having the paint collect in the mesh.

If sawdust is spread on glue that squeezes from a joint, it will absorb moisture and help in the removal of the excess glue.

Skylight Lights Bath

Building of interior rooms, approved by F.T.A. if ventilation is provided, makes it possible for homeowners to take full advantage of a home's floor space. An interior bathroom in the core of the house provides convenience and easy accessibility. Daylighting such a room is easy with a roof-lighting panel, such as used here by an enterprising home designer. Consisting of prismatic glass units set in an aluminum grid, this ingenious system reflects heat from the hot summer sun, insulates against heat loss in winter, but always providing an all-day supply of glare-free, diffused daylight.

BUILT-IN DESK MAKES 'AT HOME' OFFICE

A built-in desk in a corner of the den makes a handy "at home" office. Daylight for the desk area is furnished by a translucent panel of glass block decorated with a cornice board and drapes. What otherwise would be a drab corner is transformed into a livable, well-lighted area. Maintenance of the glass block is a minimum chore for the housewife, and in winter provides insulation without need for expensive storm windows.

Want To Keep Comfortable During The Winter? Check Heating Setup

It may be nice and balmy where you're sitting now, but it won't be long before those "wintry winds do blow", and when they do, you'll want to be just as comfortable in your home as you are on the beach this summer. If you want to make sure of it, plan now to take time out in advance of the heating season to give your home heating system a good check over.

Most people, according to the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, take their heating system pretty much for granted.

The same man who would never think of going into the winter without having his car "winterized" will very often assume that, when the temperature starts to drop, he merely has to light a match or flip a switch and he'll get heat and he means plenty of heat, constant and comfortable.

Unfortunately, like the song says, "It ain't necessarily so." Heating plants, like any other kind of appliance, need attention in order to give good service. Of course, the householder has already taken precautions by "bedding down" the heating system in the Spring, so that his Fall check-over will be merely a matter of routine.

Regardless of whether or not the heating plant has been properly bedded down, however, here are a few points that should be checked up well before the plant is put into use for the winter.

CLEAN COAL FURNACE
If the furnace is a coal burner, all remaining ashes from last winter's fire should be cleaned out and disposed of. It's surprising how many furnaces still carry this old burden right through the summer. So it must be gotten rid of before the furnace is used.

Smoke pipes should, of course, have been taken down in the Spring, painted on the outside and wiped with an oily rag on the inside. In this case, they need only be replaced, with a careful check to see that there are no leaky spots in them.

If they've been left up all summer, chances are they will have spots where corrosion has taken its toll. Anyway, they must be taken down, inspected for holes due to corrosion or bad joints where leaking can occur, then cleaned, painted on the outside, new section bought where the old show signs of real wear, and replaced.

Proper servicing here may save a visit from the Fire Department this winter, for this is where plenty of domestic fires start.

SOOT CUTS DOWN WARMTH
Talking of getting plenty of heat this winter, it's well to remember that soot and scale will cut down the amount of heat from a furnace. Experts tell us that quarter inch of soot or scale has the same insulating effect as several inches of concrete. So clean out the flues, give the firepot and grates a good cleaning with a scraper and long-handled wire brush.

Don't allow heat to leak out of the furnace either. Check doors and joints in the furnace to see that they fit tight. See that the furnace base is sealed to the floor. It might be advisable to put in a fresh layer of cement.

CHECK CONTROLS
Heating controls can get out of kilter during the summer months, too. It is as well to have these checked so that your heat will be distributed constantly

Do's And Don't's

DO . . . bear in mind that the key to good planing is a sharp blade, adjusted so that it extends a hair's width beyond the bottom and is parallel with it.

DO . . . plane with the grain (whenever possible), starting at one end of the wood with the toe of the plane flat on the surface and exerting over-all pressure as the rear handle comes over the wood.

DO . . . avoid breaking a corner on end grain by planing from the corner towards the middle.

DO . . . sharpen a plane blade on grinding wheel for best results, using an adjustable holder to get the right angle and rounding the corners over so slightly on a sharpening stone.

DO . . . also use the sharpening stone for removing the wire edge usually formed by a grinding wheel.

DON'T . . . set down the plane on its bottom (rest it on the side), and when it is not to be used again for a period of time, retract the blade.

DON'T . . . be a lazy planer; turn the wood around in the vise whenever necessary to avoid awkward positions and poor results.

DON'T . . . try to judge the smoothness of a planed surface by eye (as professionals do); use a try square at all times.

In buying any kind of lumber, it is always best to consult your lumber dealer. He can help you get the shortest lengths and the lowest grades that will do the job.

Dividers of quarter inch fir plywood can easily be made to provide kitchen drawers with sections for table cutlery, kitchen knives and baking equipment.
